Forward-Looking Statements

Please note that the following materials containing information regarding Capital One's financial performance speak only as of the particular date or dates indicated in these materials. Capital One does not undertake any obligation to update or revise any of the information contained herein whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.

Certain statements in this presentation and other oral and written statements made by Capital One from time to time are forward-looking statements, including those that discuss, among other things: strategies, goals, outlook or other non-historical matters; projections, revenues, income, returns, expenses, capital measures, accruals for claims in litigation and for other claims against Capital One, earnings per share or other financial measures for Capital One; future financial and operating results; Capital One's plans, objectives, expectations and intentions; and the assumptions that underlie these matters. To the extent that any such information is forward-looking, it is intended to fit within the safe harbor for forward-looking information provided by the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Numerous factors could cause Capital One's actual results to differ materially from those described in such forward-looking statements, including, among other things: general economic and business conditions in the U.S., the U.K., Canada or Capital One's local markets, including conditions affecting employment levels, interest rates, collateral values, consumer income, credit worthiness and confidence, spending and savings that may affect consumer bankruptcies, defaults, charge-offs and deposit activity; an increase or decrease in credit losses, including increases due to a worsening of general economic conditions in the credit environment, and the impact of inaccurate estimates or inadequate reserves; financial, legal, regulatory, tax or accounting changes or actions, including the impacts of the Tax Act, the Dodd-Frank Act and the regulations promulgated thereunder, and other regulatory reforms and regulations governing bank capital and liquidity standards, including Basel-related initiatives and potential changes to financial accounting and reporting standards; developments, changes or actions relating to any litigation, governmental investigation or regulatory enforcement action or matter involving Capital One; the inability to sustain revenue and earnings growth; increases or decreases in interest rates; Capital One's ability to access the capital markets at attractive rates and terms to capitalize and fund Capital One's operations and future growth; the success of Capital One's marketing efforts in attracting and retaining customers; increases or decreases in Capital One's aggregate loan balances or the number of customers and the growth rate and composition thereof, including increases or decreases resulting from factors such as shifting product mix, amount of actual marketing expenses Capital One incurs, and attrition of loan balances; the level of future repurchase or indemnification requests Capital One may receive, the actual future performance of mortgage loans relating to such requests, the success rates of claimants against Capital One, any developments in litigation and the actual recoveries Capital One may make on any collateral relating to claims against Capital One; the amount and rate of deposit growth; changes in the reputation of, or expectations regarding, the financial services industry or Capital One with respect to practices, products or financial condition; changes in retail distribution strategies and channels, including in the behavior and expectations of Capital One's customers; any significant disruption in Capital One's operations or in the technology platforms on which Capital One relies, including security failures or breaches of Capital One's systems or those of Capital One's customers, partners, service providers or other third parties; Capital One's ability to maintain a compliance and technology infrastructure suitable for the nature of Capital One's business; Capital One's ability to develop digital technology that addresses the needs of Capital One's customers, including the challenges relating to rapid significant technological changes; the effectiveness of Capital One's risk management strategies; Capital One's ability to control costs, including the amount of, and rate of growth in, Capital One's expenses as Capital One's business develops or changes or as it expands into new market areas; Capital One's ability to execute on Capital One's strategic and operational plans; the extensive use of models in Capital One's business, including those to aggregate and assess various risk exposures and estimate certain financial values; any significant disruption of, or loss of public confidence in, the internet affecting the ability of Capital One's customers to access their accounts and conduct banking transactions; Capital One's ability to recruit and retain talented and experienced personnel; the impact from natural disasters and other catastrophic events, including hurricanes Harvey and Irma; changes in the labor and employment markets; fraud or misconduct by Capital One's customers, employees, business partners or third parties; competition from providers of products and services that compete with Capital One's businesses; increased competition for rewards customers resulting in higher rewards expense, or impairing Capital One's ability to attract and retain credit card customers; merchants' increasing focus on the fees charged by credit card networks; and other risk factors listed from time to time in reports that Capital One files with the Securities and Exchange Commission, including, but not limited to, the Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2016.

You should carefully consider the factors discussed above in evaluating these forward-looking statements. All information in these slides is based on the consolidated results of Capital One Financial Corporation, unless otherwise noted. A reconciliation of any non-GAAP financial measures included in this presentation can be found in Capital One's Current Report on Form 8-K filed January 23, 2018, available on its website at www.capitalone.com under "Investors."
